PLANNING SPACES

Locality Planning & Consulting shares the visions of our clients. We have the experience and knowledge to deliver real results across a variety of town planning and development projects.

WHO WE ARE

Locality Planning & Consulting (Locality—LPC) is a specialist town planning firm based on the Sunshine Coast.

Headed by Managing Director, Jason Hague, and supported by a well-developed network of highly qualified planning and development professionals across the region, LPC has delivered exceptional results to clients and earned its reputation as an industry leader.

WHAT WE DO

Locality Planning & Consulting knows the State of Queensland and has extensive specialist resources at our disposal to assist you in realising your future development project. Our strength lies in our ability to visualise the most successful development opportunities for any site.

This vision, backed by the capabilities and discipline of Locality's winning team, ensures we turn possibilities into realities. Whether your project is residential, commercial or environmental in nature; small-scale in the form of a duplex development, or as large as a new residential community, LPC has the know-how to seek the necessary approvals and to manage your development project to a successful outcome.

Locality can assist you with every element of town planning and development management including:

- Subdivisions
- Reconfigurations
- Material Changes of Use
- Master Planned Communities
- Environmentally relevant activities
- Location analysis and feasibility studies
- Research, project planning and report writing
- Project and application coordination
- Development applications
- Local Council and Associated Consultant negotiations
